

THEFIRSTCALL.COM

A medical incident may happen at any time. An injury or an onset of illness may need to be treated immediately, as it may be serious, requiring the advice of an experienced doctor. You may also be some time away from shore based medical facilities and complications may occur even in minor situations.

When this happens, using your existing communications system, you will be able to call upon TheFirstCall's team of physicians who will deliver medical advice and decision support for you and your patient.

- Direct and immediate access to advice from senior doctors in the specialty of Emergency Medical Care in the marine environment 24/7, with access and advice to senior clinicians in all specialist fields.
- Unlimited support during and after emergency. Reporting and liaison with an individual's personal physician.
- Specialist advice for anyone on board who may have specific medical needs.
- Provision, through our networks, of advice on the nearest suitable medical facilities, anywhere in the world with second opinion and monitoring of consultations and treatment plans.
- Information on and supply of medical supplies and equipment.
- Medical planning for extensive or challenging passages with knowledge on vaccination policies and infectious diseases worldwide.
- Diving medicine from the medical hyperbaric team at Aberdeen Royal Infirmary.
- Advice on telemedicine technologies and sick bay design.
- Repatriation and medical evacuation.
- Medical training and refresher courses (MCA approved).

In this situation you will be able to call TheFirstCall's team of physicians who will deliver evidence based medical advice and decision support for you and your patient. From one of the world's largest and most sophisticated remote medical groups, they will offer support, and advise you on the medical situation wherever you are, 24/7.

Marine Medical Systems has created a working relationship with THEFIRSTCALL.COM ,A Medical Advisory Service as mutual providers of maritime safety and medical preparedness'

MARINEMEDICAL.COM
for all your pharmaceutical and medical surgical needs
MARINEMEDICAL.COM 1-800-272-3008
THE FIRST STEP IN COMPLETE MARITIME MEDICAL PREPAREDNESS

